PRICES AND INCOMES

It is something of an economic axiom that the price of any article is determined largely by how much there is of it—and how badly people want it. And that fact has led to a considerable amount of confusion in the public mind.

Take, for example, so simple and so widely-consumed a product as pork chops. The housewife will argue that the price of these chops is way too high—and automatically reason from that that all meat prices are too high. And she is right. But the fact is that the price of pork chops is not too high. It is just what it should be. Lively had charge of the activities in this class. Assisting were Mrs. Alice Reese, Mrs. Ruby Schaefer and Miss Jean Norris. "Outdoors in Palestine" was their topic of discussion.

Mrs. R. V. Allison headed the fourth, fifth and sixth grade teacher's group. She was assisted by Mrs. George Farnall, Mrs. Harold Riedel, Mrs. Bessie Tucker with Miss Gail Allison in charge of games and Mrs. L. P. Carson supervising the music. The class subject was "Learning to Know the Bible."

Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Jack Hollingsworth.

BEef FATTENING
If you don't know how to go into the beef business in Glades when the day is over it will be your fault, because the industry is going to be big. Incidentally, there'll be quite a few of the Glades' best cattlemen there to get more information on the subject. If you look close you may be able to find a couple or more of the Glades real estate peddlers, of which the writer is one, to guide you to one of the "very few good buys left."

Anyhow, come along and send for your "yankie" friend who have been wanting to "get some dope on this business" for the Belle Glade, and the Everglades Experiment Station will be headquarters for free information on Wednesday, June 25th. Ball Kidder, Associate Attorney, is coordinating the Station's efforts with those of the Extension Service for this Field Day.

EXERCISES TONIGHT MARK CLOSE OF PRESBYTERIAN VACATION Bible SCHOOL

A picnic today at noon at Paradise park will mark the close of the Presbyterian Church vacation Bible school. Exercises will be held at the church on North Main Street will be held at 8 p.m. to night.

Approximately 40 children ages 4 to 11 have been enrolled for the two weeks school, conducted under the direction of the pastor, Reverend Robert McArthur, and will participate in tonight's program. An exhibit of the work completed will be on display for the parents at the close of exercises.

Teachers and assistants in the school are: Mrs. R. W. Lanier, Mrs. R. L. Pipes, Mrs. D. M. McClure, Mrs. Frances Elder, Mrs. Robert Roadman, Mrs. E. H. Browning, Mrs. C. E. Crandall, Mrs. and Mrs. Clyde Clayton.

PRE-SCHOOL MOTHERS MEET AT THAMES HOME

Mrs. Walter H. Thames was recently to members of the pre-school mother's group. Mrs. Willard Scheffler had the program and read an article pertaining to the child and afternoon nap. A round table discussion followed.

Mrs. Thames served refreshments to the members of the group. Mrs. Willard Scheffler, Mrs. Grace Wilson, Mrs. Emil Wolf, Mrs. Edward Gangstad and Mrs. Urban Feising.

S. B. SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM OPENS MONDAY

Registration for the Summer Recreation Program, sponsored by the Board of Public Instruction, will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, June 16, at both South and Bay Harbor Schools.

Robert H. Crandall of the Canal Point is in charge of the program. He will be assisted by Miss Dulah Mae Snider also of Canal Point who will conduct a story hour and film program at both schools. Sunday classes will be held at both Belle Glade, Pahokee and Canal Point.

Parents are cordially invited to accompany their children to the registration and participate in the discussing and planning of the program.

MISS KIDDER RESIGNS EDUCATIONAL POST

PLANT BOARD WARNS AGAINST TRIMMING MAKING GUARANTEES

Gainsville, Fla.—In buying plants, better beware or itinerant nurserymen or dealers who claim they are backed by the State Plant Board. Especially if they say the Plant Board will require them to make good their guarantees to care for the trees after planting and to replace, without charge, the trees that die after planting.

Arthur C. Brown, plant commissioner, says the Plant Board has received a number of letters from residents of Florida in which they request aid in obtaining replacements for dead trees or refund of the purchase price of trees bought under these guarantees. Each complaint states that the trees, bought at a rather high price under such guarantees, were of inferior quality, unthrifty and, in some instances, dead, also the dealer from whom the trees were purchased, contrary to his promise, had not called upon the buyer to check the condition of the trees nor had he replied to letters addressed to him and containing a request that he call upon the purchaser for the purpose of making satisfactory adjustments.

They all stated that they were led to believe that the Plant Board was backing this particular dealer who, in support of this statement, furnished them with a Plant Board certificate. This certificate was the customary nursery inspection certificate which must be attached to each package of nursery stock moved, and merely attests that the nursery in which the trees had been propagated had been inspected and found to be apparently free from injurious plant pests.

Mr. Brown says, unfortunately, the authority of the State Plant Board is limited to the promulgation and enforcement of rules and regulations governing the movement of nursery stock for the purpose of preventing the dissemination of injurious insects and diseases. Its authority does not extend to prosecution of unethical practices. Investigations of the activities of this particular dealer are being made to determine whether or not he has complied with the Board's requirements with respect to the sale and movement of nursery stock. In the meantime, property occupants should be warned that the Plant Board cannot help them to make good any guarantee.

SELECTIVE SERVICE BUSY WITH IV-F'S AND DELINQUENTS

Of the 12,553,752 classified men in the selective service manpower pool there are 1,411, 244 IV-F's or rejects. Of this number 300,000 were rejected for mental deficiency; that is their score in the Army Test must have been 13 or more.

Recently congress lowered this requirement from 13 to 10, and the Selective Service has had re-examine with the result that 27.7% or 83,838 were accepted. Of these found acceptable 131 have been ordered to report for active duty.

Recently a Court decision said that a Board might put a man in I-A who professes to be religiously or constitutionally against serving any way, either fighting or, non-combatant, but not to put him in I-A-O, if they don't believe him.

What's the big idea of DYNAFLOW DRIVE?

6-passenger Super Convertible.

THERE are all sorts of "drives" and "shifts" on the market. Some still operate entirely by hand. Some depend on shifting gears, but do this automatically. Some feed the power through oil, but use a lock-out device at cruising speeds.

But we still think that Dynaflo[®] is the best of all for this simple reason:

The big idea of Dynaflo Drive is to make life easy for the driver.

In traffic, you can start and stop, slow down, accelerate with complete and infinite smoothness because no gears have to shift, ever, in Dynaflo Drive. So there's no lurch, buck or bobble. Dynaflo always feeds power with a steady, willing swoop—at 3 miles an hour or 30—or as high as it's legal to go. On hills, you get the same sure, steady, unflinching power-feed for the same reason. No gears ever shift.

On a long day's drive, you can ride with wonderful freedom from tension—your foot relaxed on the throttle—because you always drive through oil.

And at any speed you get a smoother ride, in part because Dynaflo Drive provides such a smooth and gentle linkage between that mighty Fireball 8 Engine and the rest of the chassis.

But this is not all. Our service records show that Dynaflo also makes life easier for your bank account. It saves wear and strain on the engine, banishes the cost of clutch repairs, saves strain on the transmission and even on the rear tires.

There are a lot of other good reasons for buying a Buick—its style, its room, its ride, its power, its thrills, its durability—and its price.

When you can get all this—plus Dynaflo Drive—why be a holdout? Come in and give Dynaflo a try today.

Rice and Egg Casserole Hits an All Time High in Eating Perfection

Truly spectacular in flavor and appearance. Every bite of this magnificent casserole has "come back-for-more" appeal. The peas, pimiento, and cheese, along with a dash of onion, combine flavors in the rice to produce out-of-this-world eating and make a delicious combination with the decorative eggs. Happily, this casserole may be assembled ahead of time. The eggs are added a half-hour before the meal is to be served and while they bake the table is set and the rest of the food assembled. Then, prepared to back in the heat of praise which eaters will send flying.

INGREDIENTS:
2 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups cooked peas
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 egg
1 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup milk
6 eggs

have never been able to find a single trace of the once-proud village. Indeed, my knowledge of St. Joseph would be scant but for three books: the Florida Guidebook; Rubly's "The History of St. Joseph"; and "The Great Tide and Alexander Key's" "The Wrath and the Wind."

As late as 1923, Mrs. Hall found tangible evidence of a grand and gross St. Joseph. When the tide was low, it was possible to walk out into St. Joseph's Bay for a half-mile or more and never sink into sand or silt. The reason? The whole area was covered with masses of bricks which had served as St. Joseph's busy wharf and piers.

But these bricks — about 8 inches long and 5 inches wide and stamped "St. Joseph Brick Works" — have largely disappeared. Some were hauled away by salvagers to form foundations for modern Port St. Joe, two miles to the north.

As the bricks were evidence of wealthy St. Joseph, mounds of glass found by Mrs. Hall in 1923 were evidence of wicked St. Joseph. These piles of glass — some containing unbroken bottles, tumblers and mugs — marked the sites of saloons. Mrs. Hall discovered 14 such mounds, and by stepping them off, she estimated that there was at least one saloon, sometimes two, for every block of the main street.

As a matter of historical fact, St. Joseph was once the richest and wealthiest city in southern eastern United States. Along the Gulf Coast, St. Joseph was known for its cotton and its sister port of Apalachicola as Gomerah.

Both ports owed their affluence to the cotton trade, with as many as 150,000 bales of cotton shipped annually from the city alone. St. Joseph was the terminus of two railroads, one from Lake Wiclico (8 miles northwest of Apalachicola) and the other from Iola (7 miles N. of Weirahicola).

In its boom days, St. Joseph boasted brick office buildings and warehouses. Cotton brokers built palatial mansions. Town lots sold for as much as $3,000. There were two luxury hotels, the Bryon House and the Pickwick Hotel.

A surprisingly large number of doctors and lawyers advertised their services in the St. Joseph Times, a weekly gazette published each Saturday by Peter W. Gautier, Jr. The subscription price was $5.00 per year, and the advertising rate was $1.00 per inch.

In the Times of Feb. 23, 1839, a brokerage and ship chandlery concern offered a number of seagoing vessels for sale, including a 7-ton sloop and a 10-ton schooner, mounting 20 guns. In the same issue, Editor Gautier boasted his city:

"The depth and security of its harbor, its beautiful beauty of location and direct means of communication with the interior point it out as the importing emporium for West Florida.

Only two years later came the fall of the once-proud village, followed by the Great Tide which flattened St. Joseph with the destructive power of a giant maul. Rubly's "The History of St. Joseph"; and "The Great Tide and Alexander Key's" "The Wrath and the Wind."

However, there is no time limit as to when the dependency of a parent must be proven. Death compensation is payable when dependency arises; namely, only the date of the death of the veteran.

Monthly amounts vary according to the number and relationship of the dependents. Example are: Widow, with no child, $75; widow, with one child, $121 (with $29 for each additional child); no widow, one child, $87; no widow, two children, $94; no widow, three children, $122 (with $23 for each additional child); one parent, dependent, $60; two dependent parents, $35 each. These rates include the new increases.

VA Form 8-534 is used in filing claim for widows and children, form 8-535 is used for dependent parents.

If you desire assistance in filing a claim, I suggest that you contact your local Veterans' Service Officer.

JAMES A. FARLEY IS PRESIDENT OF NEWLY ORGANIZED GMC CO.

The GMC Truck dealership at 603 West 23rd St., New York City, has been sold to the newly organized Farley-GMC Truck Co., Inc., with James A. Farley, former U. S. Postmaster General, as president, it was announced by W. L. Vandewater, eastern regional sales manager (truck) of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

The newly-franchised dealership took over the existing real estate facilities and inventories of the distributorship as of June 2.

"Acquisition of this big sale area by Farley-GMC should further strengthen the Divisions market position in the industry and assure GMC truck operator of continued good service," Vandewater said.

Farley is Chairman of the Board of Coca Cola Export Corp., president of General Builders Supply Corporation, and is a director of several other companies and organizations.

Everglades Division of Fresh Water Fish Commission Moved To Okeechobee City

Headquarters for the Everglades Division of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will be moved from Lake Park to the City of Okeechobee as the result of a recent action by the Game Commission, it was announced today.

Ben L. McLaughlin, director of the commission, reported that the move was instituted because of technical matters involving the land base radio station, and to put the district office in a more centrally located point.

McLaughlin said that having the radio station at Okeechobee would greatly improve the efficiency of the Division, since the radio would go out to sea. He added that the move centrally located position would also reduce the costs of operation of the Division.

Passage of the motion was approved by the Board of Commissioners of the Division, and approved by E. Harris Drew, West Palm Beach, Commissioner for the Fourth Conservation District.

ATTEMPTED EVICTION OF FARM WIDOW PROTESTED IN MICHIGAN

LAFER, Mich., June 3—A farm widow's attempted eviction in which angered neighbors manhandled a sheriff, backed into the state of Michigan's official lap today.

An indignant group called on the state administration board with a petition in Lansing to lodge a protest.

Hot words ensued, and Gov. G. Mennen Williams, himself short-tempered after hours of wrangling, agreed to order an investigation.

The central figure in a year's long dispute over property rights is Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, who lives on an 80-acre farm near here.

While turmoil marked the governor's office, at least outward calm settled over the scene at Mrs. Stevens' farm.

Lapeer County Sheriff Clark W. Gregory, hefty ex-Marine who was knocked down and pinned by angry farmers yesterday when he tried to evict the widow, stayed away.

The sheriff gave no indication what his next step might be. He said only that he was "waiting word from Lansing."

When attempting the eviction Sheriff Gregory said he was only trying to carry out his responsibility under the law.

Feelings Run High, meantime, in the countryside. The Lapeer County Press, weekly newspaper serving the area, got out an extra edition two days ahead of regular publication time to demand action from the state.

Under a two-inch-high headline saying "mob attacks sheriff" the paper charged that state officials "did their best to pass on the unwanted child."

Mrs. Stevens' property was sold at auction in 1949 to satisfy a $171 assessment in the failure of a mutual insurance company in 1935.

She has not been alone in her effort to resist eviction although numerous other farmers, similarly assessed, have paid up and kept their farms.

Near Mrs. Stevens' farm the Ziegehardt brothers, Chris and Paul, also have resisted. They have barricaded their place. It's now known as "Fort Ziegehardt."

Went Broke in 1933 The Lapeer Farmers Mutual Insurance Association / went broke in 1935, and the courts held its members responsible for $81,000 in debts. The farmers were among the members.

A group which descended on Lansing today got into a hot argument with Governor Williams. C. C. Gilliland, called himself an agent for the group, led the farmers to the meeting with the governor and the administrative board. The board is an executive branch of the state.

Gilliland said the farmers' bloodshed if the governor did not stop in to stop serving of eviction notices.

To this Williams retorted "now I hope none of you people are telling me you are going to break the law." Gilliland shouted a denial.

Ultimately, Williams agreed to ask State Insurance Commissioner Navarre to make a report.

550 POUND MARLIN—First fish entered in the Eastern Bahamas Summer Fishing Tournament was this 550-pound marlin, caught by Florida Yachtsman Norman Gottlieb, who owns the "Crystal Queen." The big one will give anglers a mark to shoot at. The tournament continues until July 16. Gottlieb is at left, Capt. Frank Brown at right. No doubt about the foreground!

Outdoor Florida
by Herb Mosher

Now for some rough and ready philosophy as expounded by a real sportsman in the outdoors. The sportsman is Maj. J. F. Houck, who lives on the high western shore of Lake Okechobee, at Gotha. The major has many years of outstanding service to the U. S. A. I often go over to the major's beautiful lake-side place to select revolvers, pistols and, occasionally, rifles with him. Maj. Houck has a great collection of guns of all kinds and ages—only all of his guns shoot! He does not collect old junk just to look at. Even his Civil War models are in excellent condition and he has plenty of ammunition for all of these firearms. In fact, Maj. Houck spends much of his time reloading cartridges with the result that, often, he gets better accuracy than with factory-loaded ammunition.

Maj. Houck has a collection of medals won for fine marksmanship which just about covers the wall of one room. Among these are many top rank medals, of pure gold; the highest awards which a rifleman or a handgun man can hold. Some of his more valued guns are close-by—30 calibre Remington-Winchester and Remington rifles with scopes on them; also Smith and Wesson revolvers with special sights in .38 and .45 calibre. His valued Colt Woodman is in the collection and truly 'tis a joy to shoot this finely balanced .22 with the red bead front sight, the very light trigger pull, and amazing accuracy. So a few days ago I was over at the Major's place along with the Nephew Jack Rhodes, Jr., who is a Rollins College student as well as a student of firearms. We were shooting, for a change, on the 50 yard range, an old muzzle-loading squirrel rifle such as Daniel Boone used in the good old days when folks thought negroes too close "if you could see smoke of their chimneys." When real outdoorsmen could see that sort of smoke—they moved! Anyhow we were getting splendid results with the black powder and round balls. The look through the major's spotting 'scope showed after each shot. A discussion about early-day firearms was carried on between loadings. "You know," the major said, "the old flintlocks of Revolutionary days were not much good. The trigger was hang-fire; I often wonder how they hit anything. After the Revolution it was Benjamin Franklin who recommended to our American Congress that a division of American soldiers should be equipped with bows and arrows. He made this recommendation on the basis of firearm performance in Gen. Washington's army during the Revolution."

This observation came as quite a surprise. For a moment no one said anything. Then either young Rhodes or I said to the major, "Major, don't you think that this thing we call civilization may very well, and perhaps quickly, revert to bows and arrows?"

To which the major, who is also a great conversationalist, quickly answered, "No—to die!"

HUGH MARLIN and bluefin tuna are now off Florida's east coast, mostly across the Gulf Stream in the Bahamas. A photograph of a 550-pound marlin is shown above. The 550-pound marlin was taken a few days ago off Andros Island by Norman Gottlieb, a yachtsman who makes the rounds in Fla. waters. His boat, the "Crystal Queen" was skippered by Capt. Frank G. Brown when the catch was made. It took 45 minutes to boat the big one which was, incidentally, the first marlin to be entered in the Eastern Bahamas Summer Fishing Tournament now in progress, out of Nassau. Many other hugh tuna and marlin will be taken during the early summer. It's only a little distance east of Ft. Pierce, Stuart, West Palm Beach, and similar points, that this magnificent fishing goes on.

SNOOK SEASON is at hand. Ft. Pierce is one of the several really outstanding places to catch snook in all of Florida. Marco, Everglades, Naples, Bonita Springs are others. It is well to remember there are three species of snook in Fla. waters, two of which seldom exceed four pounds each in weight. The other snook, the big fellow, can reach up to the 50-lb. bracket and one day a champion fisherman will set a new world's record with snook around 75 pounds in weight. A 50-pound snook now holds the world's record, caught by one Capt. John W. Anderson in Charters River, Panama Canal zone. I've a friend, Lou Catie, formerly of Orlando, now with Heddon Tackle, at Dowagiac, Mich., who took a snook weighing 80 pounds even at Marco. Back in the good old days, from 1916 on into the '20's, many of us regularly took snook of 40 pounds and more in Lake Worth and thought nothing of it. I suppose Lake Worth produced snook frequently, in those days in the 60-pound bracket. We used live mullet then for bait, exclusively. I remember, at 11 years of age, a battle with a 45-pound snook in Lake Worth. It took an hour to land this big one. In those days snook were not much valued and no one ever ate them. How the situation has changed! Judge Edgar C. Thompson, down at West Palm Beach, started me snook fishing, back in 1916. We always gave away the snook—brought home the sea trout. Incidentally, we used to toss back sea trout under 10 pounds as being too small to keep.

TRAPON are also in season now and it is foolish to miss this sport with the Silver King. Ft. Pierce inlet will stand right up in front when it comes to tarpon fishing. Will Sarac, Capt. Fr. Myers, Boca Grande, Marco, and much of the West Coast.

This Week's Digest

This week, the Bureau of National Affairs (a private gathering organization) developed these statistics a bit further. The BNA says the average city worker supporting a family of four in a "modest but adequate" manner needs a weekly income of $81.62 per week. That's the national average—compared to only $78.81 needed in Savannah and $74.31 required in New Orleans. However, not all Southern cities are below the average—Atlanta, for instance, calls for a weekly income of $83.52.

FOREST SERVICE—National Forest Supervisors from 11 Southern States will attend a conference in Atlanta, next week (June 9-13) at the regional headquarters of the U. S. Forest Service. The meeting has been called by Charles A. Cunningham, regional forester, to develop plans and policies for the protection and administration of the 5,500,000 acres of national forest land, the sale of 700 million board feet of timber and assistance to owners of 150 million acres of private forest land.

PUBLIC HOUSING—Arthur R. Hanson of the Richmond, Va. field office of P.H.A., replaces M. P. Satterfield (assigned) as director of the Atlanta field office this week.

DEPT. OF COMMERCE—Small business firms in the Southeast will be given an opportunity to participate in the federal program designed to expand industrial projects related to the defense effort through the granting of tax amortization certificates. Certificates of necessity calling for expansions to cost more than a billion dollars in the Southeast have already been granted to larger firms. Now, the Defense Production Administration and the Small Defense Plants Administration will endeavor to bring small industrial establishments into the picture wherever possible.

OPS—Producer to consumer regulations concerning Irish potatoes have been drastically tightened by the Office of Price Stabilization. The mark-up on sales directly from producer to retailer has been reduced and invoices are now required identifying seller, purchaser, state in which grown and sales price. These steps were taken to strengthen enforcement and prevent diversion of potatoes into illegal or blackmarket channels. Reduction of potato acreage last year after price supports were eliminated and weather damage to this year's early crop caused the present shortage. Conditions should not make the potato digging season extend into more states.

WAGE STABILIZATION—Even though the South does not usually recognize Memorial Day as a holiday, employers who granted a "long weekend" (Friday to Monday) last week need not deduct wages paid from any future increases granted under the federal wage program. The regional WSB said the same is true of the July 4 weekend, but the Saturday off included in each case can only be allowed workers who normally work on Saturdays.

NPA—Allotments of critical metals for civilian production have been boosted by the National Production Administration for the third quarter of 1952. Steel, copper and aluminum may now exceed previous allotments of precise percentages for the manufacture of television and radio sets, dishwashers, refrigerators, electric fans and other home appliances. No immediate upsurge in the production of these goods is anticipated, however.

RODEO AT KISSIMMEE
FOR JULY 4th, 5th, 6th.

Ocala County's annual 4th of July celebration is expected to draw crowds to the Florida KISSIMMEE Jaycees, which will draw several hundred members of Flying Farmers of America for the annual get-together and barbecue. A feature of the meeting will be a boat trip across Lake Tohopekaliga to the famous Star-Bar Ranch of Henry O. Partin & Sons.

Plans for the organization of a junior cattlemen's association will be discussed by officers and committeemen named at the recent meeting of the Florida State Cattlemen's Association in Stuart at a special meeting to be held in Kissimmee on the morning of July 5th.

Performance of the rodeo will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday and Sunday, July 4th, 5th, and 6th, at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, July 5th.

The annual rodeo parade will be held in downtown Kissimmee at 2:00 p.m. Saturday.

St. Cloud's July Fourth observance will include a "Fish-a-Thon" for the youngsters in East Lake Tohopekaliga. The rodeo performance will be staged in the Silver Spurs arena midway between the two cities on Highway 441.

What about Commodities?

To most people they're sacks of sugar, bushels of potatoes, a wagon-load of corn.

But to thousands and thousands of farmers, manufacturers, and speculators they're living—and a way of life. A multi-billion dollar business. A vital part of the nation's economy.

That's why we've just revised our booklet called "How to Buy and Sell Commodities" . . . crammed 48 pages with enough facts and figures to give nearly anybody a much clearer picture of commodities.

The booklet begins by explaining how commodity prices are made . . . examines the risk factors . . . shows how to help safeguard against them.

Then sample transactions in wheat take you step-by-step through the workings of the "futures" markets . . . clearly demonstrate how the hedger uses them to protect his profits—without the speculator does to make "hedging" possible.

There's a thorough discussion of the six cardinal sins committed by traders, plus sound suggestions on how to avoid them . . . separate studies on cotton and wheat . . . and an 8-page glossary of the most important terms in commodities.

If you have any interest at all in commodities, we think you'll want to read this booklet. There's no charge, of course, just write for "How to Buy and Sell Commodities." You can address—
